

FARM BOYS ON THEIR WAY HOMEForty Five of Them Have Had Wonderful Swing
Around Big Circle

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 30.—The 45 West Virginia farm boys, representing 25 West Virginia counties, in charge of the extension officials from West Virginia university, leave here tonight on the last lap of their journey. They will spend Tuesday at Martinsburg and at the demonstration picking plant at Inwood so they can get a chance to study the apple industry in the Eastern Panhandle of the state.

These boys have been having a time of their lives, from the hour they began to load into the special pullman car at Gratton and at other points along the route of their trip until now. At Parkersburg, the Board of Commerce gave them luncheon and showed them the town. The Huntington Rotary club had them as guests at a theatre and at breakfast. The Chamber of Commerce provided autos for them to see the city and the Kiwanis club gave them dinner. At Charleston the glad hands were outstretched to the boys. Under the leadership of "Pop" Smith, a Kinschloe, the boys were entertained at supper and breakfast and were shown the city. Former Gov. McConkie entertained them at his palatial home and Governor Cornwell personally welcomed them and spoke to them at supper at the Kanawha hotel before the Rotarians. At White Sulphur Springs, Governor Cornwell had the boys entertained in the name of the State of West Virginia.

Then came a lull in the trip by a week's camp at Gratton. Va. where West Virginia demonstrated to the club boys of Virginia and Maryland just how wide awake the farm boys of the West Virginia boys made a splendid record in every test and ranked high as a whole. One of the most interesting sights around Gratton, of course, are the caverns, which extend under a nearby hill for almost a mile and the visit to the caverns a feature. There is no doubt that this tri-state camp will be continued.

From Gratton, the boys left in a special car Saturday morning for Washington and made headquarters at the New Elbert hotel. The boys spent Sunday and today, August 29, in every way they had been anticipated and the boys are even planning how they can repeat the trip next year.

It is a happy and satisfied bunch of boys that leaves here tonight. The boys have covered 1000 miles on this trip, have travelled through 17 counties of West Virginia, the states of Virginia and Maryland and the District of Columbia. The trip has been an even greater success in every way than had been anticipated and the boys are even planning how they can repeat the trip next year.

HOULT
New Mine Loading Coal.
The mine of the Shamrock Fuel company here loaded its first rail way car the latter part of last week. They have two electric mining machines, electric haulage from the pit mouth to the tipples, good railway siding, one switch opening on the main line of the B. & O., Connellsville division, the other end opening onto the track of the Domestic Coke Corporation, and they expect to load coal steadily from now on. They expect to work cutters and loaders in two shifts until the entries are in far enough to give places for a number of loaders.

Floods do Much Damage.
There was a sudden and unexpected downpour of rain on Saturday which, though only local, approached the proportions of a cloud burst. Rain, mixed with much hail, fell in torrents. Mines were flooded, railroad tracks washed out or covered with landslides, crops injured and small drains, runs or rivulets turned into veritable raging torrents which did thousands of dollars in damages in the aggregate. The mine at Hoult, part of the lower workings at Aurora, the Chesapeake mine and the mine of the Monongahela Powder company near here all were more or less flooded. It was at first reported that the powder mill shaft was flooded with several persons not yet out. This caused much excitement and several persons hurried down to the mine, only to learn, with mixed feelings of relief and disgust, that there was nobody in the mine, although it was flooded. The tracks of the B. & O. were partially washed out here and opposite Rivesville.

Box Supper Does Fairly Well.
The box supper and festival held to purchase coal for the church did fairly well, notwithstanding the heavy rains late in the evening kept away persons outside Hoult and that the report of men being caught in a flooded mine caused some trouble in the management of the affair. Everything was sold out and enough realized to buy the coal with some over on the building of the coal house.

Farewell Party.
Mr. Olin Watkins and sister Gladys gave a party Friday evening at their home here for their sister Erma, who is going to Philadelphia to enter a school of nursing. She started Sunday morning, accompanied by her foster mother, Mrs. F. L. Barnes, who will return in a few days.

Clarence Bowman and Archie McElfresh motored to Monongalia county Sunday in the former's car and visited friends. Mrs. John Byerly and son Wayne are visiting relatives at Beechwood.

Mrs. John Nedley and small son Robert were visiting her brother, Harold Casteel, at Fairmont on Thursday.

Mrs. G. A. Spurling and two children were visiting her sister, Mrs. Bert McOlvin, at Fairmont, Friday.

Returned from Motoring Trip.
R. E. Kerns and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Harris, of Parkers Run, and Mrs. Belle Murphy, returned Sunday from a motoring trip through Maryland, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana.

ARNETTS GATHERED
BY THE THOUSANDW. E. Arnett, of Morgantown, Elected President of the Association

Approximately 2,500 members of the Arnett clan gathered at Georgetown yesterday to attend the annual reunion of the family. It is estimated that fully four hundred automobiles were parked about the Captain I. E. Arnett grove at Georgetown. The weatherman who had been cutting some queer freaks during the present season favored the Arnetts yesterday and desisted from his almost daily downpour of rain, at least long enough for the reunion, though many of the clan were caught en route home by heavy showers which visited that section but with well protected automobiles this was a small matter.

Rev. A. R. Arnett of Salem made the opening address and former Governor W. E. Glasscock of Morgantown gave an interesting talk and introduced the speakers of the day who included Judge W. S. Haymond of Fairmont, Prof. S. B. Brown, of Morgantown, and others. The reunion was one of the most successful ever held by the clan. The following officers were elected:

W. E. Arnett of Morgantown was elected president of the association and L. D. Arnett, also of Morgantown, was named secretary. The new officers will name a committee to arrange for the next reunion to be held in 1921. The retiring officers are C. C. Arnett, of Rivesville, president; R. E. Arnett, of Morgantown, secretary; with the following committee on arrangements including the officers: L. D. Arnett, Morgantown; W. E. Glasscock, Morgantown; W. E. Arnett and L. C. Arnett, Fairmont; Elbert Arnett, Rivesville.

D. Anunzio Subject of Scribner Article
The September number of Scribner's Magazine opens in an enticing way as the first contribution by Mrs. W. K. Clifford, a story with an amusing situation, the heroine a supposed war widow, and a somewhat unexpected ending.

Gabriele D'Annunzio, one of the great figures in modern letters, and one of the disturbing elements in the Fiume settlement, is the subject of a very careful article by Joseph Collins. It deals with D'Annunzio's writings, with his position in the world of letters, and analyzes the personal qualities manifested in his genius. Apparently D'Annunzio's origin and early life are something of a mystery.

Henry van Dyke, who has only recently returned from a long journey in the Orient writes in "Guide-Posts and Camp-Fires" about "Japanica." He gives many charming pictures of famous Japanese cities, and says he "knows both too much and too little" to attempt a definite paper on the great and perennial Japanese question.

The other short stories of the number are "The Argosies," by Alexander Hull, the story of a girl who sent her lovers off to find themselves before giving them an answer; "Links," by Leonard Hatch, a very timely study of certain industrial problems of today in which a foreign workman has the truth brought back to him that even the great captains of industry are helping him in his own advancement; "Sea Ginger," by J. Edward Macy, a story of the sea with the spirit of adventure in it, and with abundant touches of humor.

AS IT LOOKS TO ME
By THE INSPECTOR.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—One-half of 1 per cent, it seems, applies to many soft drinks these days as well as to alcoholic beverages. For instance, government chemists announce that some of the new "orange drinks" offered the public contain much less than half a per cent. of orange content. These imitations, Uncle Sam finds, "usually are concocted of sweetened, artificially carbonated water, colored with a dye to imitate orange juice and flavored with a little oil from the peel of the orange."
